

GAMMA MU sails aboard Celebrity Cruises' INFINITY

October 28-November 12, 2011

San Diego to Fort Lauderdale

BEYOND THE PANAMA CANAL

Join a group of Gamma Mu members on a 15-night sailing in October, embarking in San Diego and traveling along the Mexican and Central American coast to the Panama Canal, a marvel of engineering. Passing the Panama Canal, we will cruise through the Caribbean, ending in Fort Lauderdale.

While the highlight of any Panama Canal voyage is the day-long navigation through the Canal itself, what makes this such an enriching and memorable experience is all that you'll encounter along the way. At each stop, both in the Canal Zone as well as on either side, you can take dozens of different shore excursions designed to introduce you to different aspects of the Caribbean Islands and Mexico's West Coast.
